Play the Ball! is a hard-hitting anthem for every Springbok supporter who knows the truth. Blending spoken word, chanting, and an infectious chorus, this track channels the passion, frustration, and pride of South African rugby fans. From Cape Town to Dublin, it's a rallying cry that honours the players, celebrates the spirit, and calls for fairness on the field.

This is more than a song—it's a movement for Bok supporters everywhere: stand up, be loud, and play the ball!

Key Lyrics

Spoken Word Intro:

"This one's for every Bok fan who knows the truth — for every player they tried to break, and every heart that still beats green and gold. So stand up... and play the ball!"

Chorus:

Play the ball! We Just played the ball!
We rise when they try to make us fall.
Just Play the game, no tricks, no lies —
The Springbok spirit never dies.

Bridge Highlight:

From Ellis Park to Dublin rain,
We'll play our hearts, through blood and pain.

Outro Chant:

No proof, no crime, no shame at all,
Still they fear our rise — still they stall.
Play the ball! We Just played the ball!
